In Memory of Sarah Leary

We the Class of 2011 would like to share our yearbook with Sarah Leary. Although she was only with us for two years Sarah left behind a memory that will stay with us forever. When the rays of life that were Sarah stopped shining on May 10, 2009 we all felt a great loss. We want to thank Sarah for sharing her vibrant personality with us and for bringing us closer together as a class. For this we will always be thankful. We will always consider Sarah a part of the Class of 2011.

The Class of 2011 honoring Sarah at the first annual Sunshine Run

Yellow Ribbons for all the students in Sarah's honor.

Sarah's biggest dream was to become an "Aeronautical Engineer", or in other words an Astronaut. The theme of our yearbook could not have been more perfect to fulfill that dream for her!

I remember the first week I was here I went to Keene NH with a kid I barely knew, and a kid I didn't know at all. Didn't ask my mom and slept over night. It was all worth it. I will never forget how superior a certain someone is. I remember painting my face like the third week I was here. I don't have a lot of memories in Proctor, but I will always remember how everyone was so accepting, and welcomed me with smiling faces. I would like to thank The School of Proctor as a whole for showing me hospitality and kindness. You know y'all won't forget me.

2011 Class Prophecies

Mackenzie Adams-Brown : will set a Guinness World Record for having the largest spoon collection, which began one day when she needed a spoon to finish her ice cream as she was exiting a restaurant. Once upon a time her excuse was "they have plenty" and now SHE has PLENTY!!

Matthew Dobart : becomes Head of the Department of Homeland Security where he pushes for tighter border control. While visiting Arizona on the job, he accidentally gets deported.

Brandon Dwyer : moves to N.J. and joins the cast of the Jersey Shore in their most entertaining season ever on TV.

Elizabeth Falco : will become the first surgical nurse to put away her scalpel and cure her patients using laughter. Somewhere she had heard that laughter was the best medicine.

Stashia Graham : will make sports history in a sport dominated by men when she becomes the first woman to win 3 PBA titles in one year, guaranteeing her a place in the Bowling Hall of Fame.

Cody Greene : will receive straight A's at RPI, gets his doctorate in Chemistry, and creates a wonder drug that cures cancer.

Austin Howard : will land on free parking and distribute his winnings equally among the people.

Carlton Kellogg : will win the PGA tour using his typical pokey style. Unfortunately, the network runs out of airtime, denying the world his winning putt.

Jenifer Leary : designs and markets a new fad for eating out. After successfully piloting it in New England at Friendly's, it hits the national scene guaranteeing Jen her first million. Her fad? So simple. . . "the soda to go."

Kelsey LeBlanc : after a successful career as a speech pathologist, Kelsey opens her very own school for the deaf named "Keep Your Fingers Crossed" where she begins each new day signing the star spangled banner into each classroom, filled with her devoted students, using Skype.

Kyle Lenher : will become a Major General for the U.S Army, then retires to become head of NYPD.

Keagan McDonnell : after being signed to Manchester United, Keagan scores the winning goal in the World Cup. He retires at the top of his game and becomes CEO of Baby Gap.

Sydney McMorrow : will be appointed by the United States Government to document or record all graffiti tagged in cities across the U.S. While on assignment for the Government, she conveniently omits documenting her own tags and pieces sprinkled throughout the United States.

Kenny Nassau : will take home a gold medal in the X-Games in motocross and will become the first rider to land a triple-back flip in competition.

Justin Ratti : will develop first brain-to-mouth filter finally allowing those of us without self control to self-censor all of those things we wish we didn't say.

Silas Salatino : wanders around the world leaving a trail of Reese's wrappers and Dr. Pepper bottles.

David Sander : will create the first true-to-life online virtual video game, putting gamers right in the middle of the action.. so real you'd swear you were there!

Alyssa Zsido : will create a new learning tool for classrooms across America called the Tangent Killer; a button you can push when conversations in the classroom get off topic.

Greetings Phantom Earthlings

Take me to your leader so that I may feast upon her organs... er I mean I come in peace. I have infiltrated your school to live among you and observe your species without you knowing it.

I have discovered a few things in my time with you. You seem to favor the colors maroon, white, and black. And when bells ring you all stand up simultaneously and move to another room- it appears that most of you seem happy now that these so called bells ring more often! Did you notice me this year? The proof lies in the pages of this book. There are at least 47 documented sightings of me. In fact I'm in your book more than you are! Some of you show signs of great intelligence. Prove it by finding all 47 of me ...

MIDDLEBURY VT

The faculty SEL committee and the NHS held a school-wide mitten/food drive in December which helped us to remember others as we prepared for our own Holidays. We collected 75+ pairs of mittens and over 150 food items. Mittens were donated to the women's shelter and the Mission. Food items were delivered to Proctor- Pittsford Food Shelf. Names of those willing to lend a hand to those in need were put into a raffle. The winners are pictured above.

Mrs. McCullough's Experimental Foods Class tested their design and creativity skills making gingerbread houses. Students and teachers were invited to vote for their favorite. Brielle, Ricky C. and Emily's houses won!

Proctor went all out this year at the Halloween Parade where we took home the Most Creative Float award. Our Proctor Raisins performed Heard It Through The Grapevine while the dancers danced their heart out both on and around the float. Our award winning float was decorated to look like a box of raisins, complete with our very own Sun-Maid girl.

The NHS coordinated with the Lion's Club to put together holiday meal baskets for those in need at Thanksgiving.

The New York SKA-JAZZ Ensemble treated us to a performance this fall thanks to Mr. Audet and the Academic Boosters.

Mr. Bloodworth's students had the opportunity to use their creativity as they performed their egg drop experiment in Physics class... notice how Keagan protected his egg? Nothing like sand and a soccer ball to get the job done!

Proctor students from Mr. Laramie's and Mr. Mott's social studies classes attended the Model United Nations on the campus of Yale University. PHS students represented Ghana and worked on ideas to solve a variety of world problems including responses to epidemics, political corruption, Palestinian-Israeli relations, World Bank controversies and Russia's relations with the former Soviet Republics. While there they interacted with students from dozens of other schools, including several from foreign countries.

9th grade students spent 3 days and 2 nights at the Hulbert Outdoor Center where they worked on team building skills. The highlight of the trip was their time spent on the high ropes course. The trip definitely brought them closer together as a class.

Elizabeth Falco shows off the quilt she made in an independent sewing class she took with Mrs. McCullough. The project took her 80 hours!

Students in Mrs. Burke's 10th grade English class got a taste of Japanese culture after reading the book When the Emperor Was Divine (a book of historical fiction taking place during the Japanese-American Internment).

Kristi Denko attended the "Women Can Do" Conference where she tried all kinds of incredible things.

The National Honor Society Induction Ceremony was held on January 19th. Key note speaker Mary Fregosi challenged members to continue to lead, to serve, to maintain or exceed the academic standard, and to build their own character-- the 4 pillars of the NHS. In addition, Ms. Fregosi shared a poem she hung on her bulletin board as associate principal at RHS that compared the roles we play in life to that of constructing or demolishing a building, and encouraged students to be "builders" not "wreckers" in their future endeavors. New inductees include senior Austin Howard, and juniors Jacob Petrini, Kendra Piontek, Mikayla McCormack, and Chris Thomas.

The Outing Club hiked Mount Horrid

Year In Review

Even though Halloween fell on a Sunday this year, people still got into the spirit of the holiday!

Mr. Laramie's US History Class visited Mount Defiance where they observed the invasion route of British General John Burgoyne in the spring of 1777. They also crossed Lake Champlain on what turned out to be a blustery stormy day to visit Fort Ticonderoga.

Middle school peer leaders collected children's toys before the holidays to give to the Toys For Kids campaign.

Proctor High School lost a good friend and avid supporter on September 27th. We'll miss you Jimmy Taranovich. His presence was felt as he was honored by the varsity boys soccer team at Homecoming. The team wore black arm bands in his honor, Josh was back on the field with his team behind him as the National Anthem was played, and at the conclusion of the game, the game ball was presented to Judy T. For those who were there, it's a day we'll never forget.

The team defeated West Rutland twice for the first time in years and had a great win over a very talented Green Mountain team. ### Mackenzie, Our Little Chick-a-Dee for

I Love You...

So don't you worry your pretty little mind, People throw rocks at things that shine!

I watched from a distance as you made life your own.
Every sky was your own kind of blue.

I know I had the best day with you today....
Laughing on the car ride home with you....
I didn't know if you know so I'm takin' this chance to say
That I had the best day with you today.....
And you just might find who you are.....

I hope the days come easy and the moments pass slow, each road leads you where you wanna go, if you're faced with a choice, and you have to choose, I hope you choose the one that means the most to you.
If one door opens to another door closed, I hope you keep on walkin' till you find the window.
If it's cold outside, share the world the warmth of your smile. I hope you never look back, but you never forget, All the ones who love you, in the place you left.
My wish for you is that this life becomes all that you want it to,
Your dreams stay big, your worries stay small, You never need to carry more than you can hold, while you're out there getting where you're getting to, I hope you know somebody loves you, and wants the same things too!

You're beautiful. Every little piece, love, don't you know. You're really gonna be someone, ask anyone.
When you find everything you've looked for. I hope your life leads you back to my door....
Stay beautiful!

The People Behind the Book

and other such things...

Our Thanks To:

David Landon, our adopted yearbook staff member who helped us meet our first deadline by working on all those astronauts!

David Sander for ad design work.

Mr. Bouchard and any others who contributed photos or covered an event for us.

NASA our theme wouldn't exist without your photos and your allowing us to use them.

Each year brings both it's challenges and accomplishments, and this year was no exception. We surprisingly settled on a theme early on which turned out to be a good thing... Due to technology glitches beyond our control, our method of designing our book was changed drastically on us 3+ weeks into the school year. Brand new software was put on hold and we all found ourselves learning "on the fly" as we built our book. "Mrs. Brooks, how do I...?" "I don't know!" was a common conversation throughout the year. The yearbook staff set AND MET 3 goals this year... and all I can say as teacher and adviser is WOW!! We exceeded my expectations. Goal #1= Take too many pics! (I was never without a willing photographer this year. I even had one when I didn't WANT one!) Goal #2= Finish strong on selling our advertising space!! (Last year = 4 pages left to sell in May. This year = 1/8 page left to sell in February!!) Goal #3= Meet our deadlines!!! (New rules pushed our deadlines MONTHS forward with no loopholes which made meeting our deadlines this year harder than ever. LATE PAGES = higher printing costs. No more last minute designing of deadline 1 in APRIL like in past years!) Thanks to those of you who went above and beyond to make this book a good one. Your efforts made our book the best it could possibly be and it shows! I leave you with a few of my favorite memories from our year...

Justin Carter's unwavering patience as he attempted to make all of our wishes come true on our cover -- "MEOW" Justin Ratti's desktop pet kitty cat -- Justin Carter and Greg's impressive ad selling during exam week -- Kelsey "Look at THAT cloud!!" -- Nate's SALGO yearbook folder -- hands in the air, fingers fluttering out - who am I? Elizabeth!! -- eating Brooks cookies @ Christmas and Valentine's Day -- detentions for chatting on facebook -- yearbook designing over holiday break with pizza, lots of sugar - Wii -- talking THEME in study hall & pretending we're talking in code "the smoke in the sky" -- "the coral on the ocean floor" -- keeping connected via facebook, thanks for reporting in & working outside of school -- Greg selling a 1/2 page ad when there's only 1/8 page left -- Nate rocking PINK and skinny jeans -- our spelling bee-- "Kelsey? Are they OLDER than YOU?" -- yearbook additions -- Vermont Bagel Cafe -- Mackenzie's singing -- and yes, Nate, I care!
